Opportunity Assessment:

Junior gold stocks deliver aggressive investors the ultimate in rewards: short-term gains that allow a modest position to yield enormous returns, particularly today with gold bullion prices positioned to increase dramatically in the coming months.

Jay Taylor, one of the world's leading experts on gold reports in his private newsletter that gold will break $400 in the fall and that "will open the floodgates..." with "an ocean of paper money sloshing around looking for a good home."

Another respected analyst, James Dines, insists that our current economic circumstances put tremendous upside pressure on gold, and soon, "the masses will run—not walk—toward real wealth: gold..."

Strong prospects for increasing gold prices make a producing junior gold stock an exceptional profit opportunity as stock prices typically run 5 to 10 times bullion price gains!

With an early buy on CGHI, already extracting ore from proven South African gold fields, you could put this in your portfolio as one of the most profitable buys you ever make.

Today, CGHI is ready to make investors rich with a combination of golden profit-making opportunities.

First, in the coming months, perhaps as early as the fall, gold prices should soar. When gold is up, mining stocks skyrocket. Even a modest move could trigger a stock price explosion for producers. If you're skeptical, review the fundamentals and consider the upward pressure points on gold prices:

- The dollar continues to weaken worldwide as low interest rates and record deficits push foreign investment out of the U.S. Gold becomes the "go to currency" as the dollar fades.
- Global unrest, war, and terrorism will greatly drive demand for a safe investment haven, and that's always been gold.
- Foreigners, particularly Asian markets, are already buying up gold, creating the early stages of a worldwide bull run.

Second, CGHI leases are proven producers, in a South African area known for exceptional yields. Geological surveys, claims filed, signed agreements and operating plans are in place to extract gold for the next 15 to 20 years. CGHI is a South African mine, and South Africa has always been the favorite of Americans who invest in gold equities.

Third, the numbers at this mine site point to $30 million in recoverable proven and estimated gold at current gold prices. With the anticipated increase in gold hovering in the $600 an ounce range, that's a 167% increase in value to $50 million!

And the best news is: Gold is coming out of the ground now!

This is not hopeful speculation. Gold extraction started with the clean up operations following the previous mine operator. This first phase alone generated 8kg of gold per month on just the clean up of high-grade material. The next phase, recycling of ore dumps, is already underway—yielding 8 to 10 kg of gold per month worth $76,000 to $96,000 at today's prices—or $126,666 to $160,000 per month should gold prices follow the expert's upward price projections.

Finally, the underground mining is underway, which will continue for 15 to 20 years. The gold recovery plant is being upgraded right now to meet the 50-60kg per month yield this phase will generate. With gold yields at these levels, the mining operation will generate a whopping $475,000 to $570,000 per month revenue stream! What's more, as the price of gold soars, those income figures will soar! Expect revenue figures as high as $791,600 to $950,000 per month!

This is a rare opportunity to earn enormous profits soon!

The factors that come together with this opportunity couldn't be better engineered for investor profits. The depressed price of gold... a junior gold issue just getting underway... a proven gold-producing site... and the pending leap in the value of gold points to runaway profits for early investors!

If you are ready to make an aggressive buy with enormous profit potential, CGHI is a strong buy recommendation. Everything is in place for a buy now, before this issue is discovered! But the lid won't stay on for long. Price movement has already been impressive:

CGHI performance this year

| | |
|---------------|--------|
| Close 1/2/03: | $0.15 |
| Close 9/19/03 | $2.00 |

That's a 1,166.6% gain in just 7 months...and there's plenty more room to go! Had you started with CGHI at the beginning of the year, your $10,000 investment would today be worth $116,666! That's the kind of money that a junior gold like this can return to aggressive investors willing to go for the gold!
